WINNERS OF THE 3RD ARCHIFEST PAVILION DESIGN COMPETITION 2014

The 2014 Archifest Pavilion Design Competition announces two winners this year. Each winning submission is independently exceptional.

This outcome is due to the highest quality of the winning submissions and the intensity of the design competition recording the highest number of top quality submissions in the history of Archifest. SIA had obtained consent from both teams to assist the festival in a design that will result in the implementation of a Pavilion. This is befitting the spirit of collaboration which the Singapore Institute of Architect believes is the ethos of a profession.

The Institute looks forward to the collaboration, which epitomises the core essence of the 2014 theme of CROWD.

About Archifest 2014

Archifest, organised by the Singapore Institute of Architects (SIA), is a festival of ideas for the city. Taking place at various venues across Singapore, this annual festival celebrates the urban environment and the communities that make it come alive. It is a platform for local and regional communities of creative individuals, thinkers and enthusiasts of the built environment to engage each other and the public in imagining a city of the future. The festival hopes to breed a vibrant design culture, and consequently a design conscious society, by encouraging and guiding the general public and professionals in various creative fields to engage in conversations about our city in a fun and free atmosphere.

This year, the Institute takes on the role of the Festival Director and Co-curator, and appointed PLUS Collaboratives as the Co-curator and Event Producer for Archifest 2014.

Archifest 2014 will be the 8th cycle of the festival and will be held from 26 September to 11 October 2014. Themed “CROWD”, it will build upon the six pillars of the festival:

1. Pavilion (Archifest Opening Launch on 26 September evening, MBS Event Plaza),
2. Conference
3. Architours
5. Urban Lab, and
6. Fringe events,

and will see greater collaboration with various institutions and communities for an even more exciting programme lineup.

Theme – CROWD

Crowd will be a festival about people. It is also about process – the process of bringing together great minds and resources to create better places for everyone. Crowd carries different meanings in different contexts.

i) Collective Intelligence
How individuals, connected or unconnected, can collaborate and make incremental changes, and how incremental changes can produce great impacts.

ii) Community Capital
How people, connected by the place they shared, leverage on social capital to build better places for everybody.

We look forward to see you at Archifest 2014!

Best Regards,

Secretariat
