NOTES ON GARDENS BY THE BAY DESIGN WORKSHOP

Facilitated by Tay Kheng Soon

1. It is proposed to have a public workshop on ideas and designs for the Gardens by the Bay on 24th, 25th and 26th March for all those interested to make a contribution of their ideas and concepts to this important project.
2. The venue for the workshop will be at the Singapore Institute of Architects premises at Neil Road.
3. Many students, landscape designers, nature people, heritage people and architects have indicated interest to participate in this workshop.
4. Invitations will also be extended to Nparks, STB, URA and NHB to attend and to participate. The press will also be invited.
5. A website will be established to communicate the ideas and to receive feedback from the general public. All participants will be acknowledged in the website.
6. The entire workshop will be recorded on video.
7. At the end of the workshop, there will be a public presentation of the ideas, design drawings and models.
8. Tentatively, Friday morning will be devoted to intellectual mind stretching. There will be talks on the history of gardens in Singapore, botany, nature conservation, heritage and the city, post-colonial development. These presentations will be followed by discussions.
9. Friday afternoon will be devoted to discussion of ideas.
10. Saturday will then be devoted to graphical explorations of the ideas through round table design sessions. More than one scheme is anticipated.
11. Sunday should be devoted to presentation model making.
12. Monday morning would be a public presentation and press conference at the SIA premises.
