SYNOPSIS

The seminar will introduce the fundamental principles of copyright law, and how it applies to the architectural profession. It is intended to be an interactive seminar, and the speaker will be happy to address the day to day copyright questions that are faced by architects and draftsmen, in the course of their work.

SPEAKER'S PROFILE

Dr Stanley Lai heads of Intellectual Property & Technology practice of Allen & Gledhill LLP. Stanley advises and practises corporate, commercial and intellectual property litigation and has appeared in a number of cases in the Singapore Court. His practice includes advising clients on all aspects of intellectual property and information technology law, with a particular emphasis on e-commerce transactions, telecommunications regulatory compliance, intellectual property and technology litigation, software licensing (including open-source licensing), franchising and on-line and off-line enforcement against piracy and counterfeiting. He also advises clients on branding strategy and trade mark dilution. He also advises biotechnology and biomedical companies on the regulatory regime in Singapore (eg. the regulation of clinical trials and tissue banking), and how their intellectual property rights can best be protected in Singapore and elsewhere.

Stanley sits on the panel of adjudicators for the resolution of domain name disputes under the Singapore Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy. He also serves as a member of the Board of Governors of the Intellectual Property Academy of Singapore and is currently an Adjunct Associate Professor in the Law Faculty of the National University of Singapore. He also serves as an independent director to several boards. Stanley has published extensively on the topic of intellectual property and information technology law, as well as written articles which have been published in a number of journals and legal publications. He authored a book entitled The Copyright Protection of Computer Software in the United Kingdom (Hart Publishing 2000). His latest loose-leaf work, the 'Intellectual Property' Volume of Singapore Precedents & Forms (Lexis Nexis, 2005) was published in February 2005. Stanley graduated from the University of Leicester with an LLB (Hons) degree in 1992. He was called to the Bar at Lincoln's Inn in 1993. He obtained an LLM from the University of Cambridge in 1994 and was called to the Singapore Bar in 1995. Stanley then commenced his PhD research at the University of Cambridge in the field of technology law and computer software copyright and completed his doctorate in three years. He is the first Singapore-born lawyer to receive a PhD in Law from the University of Cambridge. Prior to joining Allen & Gledhill LLP, he was a partner in the Intellectual Property & Technology department at another leading law firm in Singapore.
