

ArchiFest is an Architectural Design Festival that celebrates the built environment and preludes the Singapore Architecture Biennale 2010.

To be held annually, it is a platform for all walks of life to discuss, debate and deliberate architectural issues. Participants will find themselves engaging in uninhibited dialogue, creative collaborations and a constant exchange of ideas.

ALWAYS A BETTER WAY

What's Happening?

ArchiFest comprises a variety of events and activities that will find professionals of all fields engaged in the sharing of understanding, ideas and experience. From a forum that addresses challenges faced by architects who take on our urban landscape to a tour that covers some of Singapore's architectural milestones, there is something here for everyone.

Each and every festival event is designed to promote inspired and inspiring conditions under which a vibrant design culture can be fostered. An effort towards a design-conscious society, events aspire to rouse not only architectural awareness, but also, a passion for the art that builds our city.

A Star-Studded Event!

The stellar line-up of speakers include:

Manabu Chiba (Japan)
Kerry Hill (Singapore)
Ma Yansong (China)
Takaharu + Yui Tezuka (Japan)
Hitoshi Abe (Japan)
Kevin Mark Low (Malaysia)
Chris Luebke (UK)
Max Fordham (UK)
Angelene Chan (Singapore)
Chan Soo Khian (Singapore)
Seah Chee Kien (Singapore)
Sonny Chan (Singapore)

Forum

A 1 & 1/2-day forum designed to champion and challenge ideas, works and processes, "Aspiration to Realisation" will be the departure point from which creative juices will flow.

The forum will feature twelve local and international speakers renowned in their field. Expect also, many emerging architects with ground-breaking ideas and students who will lend a fresh edge to the mix.

Exhibition

Featuring submissions from the Marina South Ideas Competition, S³ Design Ideas Competition, works by the speakers, and National Art Gallery Competition, the ArchiFest Exhibition will last 2 weeks and will prove to be a stirring display. Viewers will find themselves splurging a day on a visual feast that will connect them to ideas that incorporate innovative planning, original approaches and one-of-a-kind living environments.

ArchiTours

Ever wondered how architecture affects our lives? Get a first-hand experience through this half-day tour that will take you to award-winning architectural projects and explain their significance. Led by NUS architecture students, be prepared to discover how changing landscapes and structures affect our lives, our lifestyles and the way in which we think.
