

MAN + ENVIRONMENT

16 -17 oct / drama centre

Gerard Reinmuth (Australia)

Gerard Reinmuth formed TERROIR with Richard Blythe and Scott Balmforth in 1998. He is the Director in charge of the Sydney office and has a key design role on all major projects. These include award-winning projects such as Trammere House and Peppermint Bay, and the $35million Hazards at Freycinet Hotel to be built during 2006 and 2007.

Andrew Maynard (Australia)

Named in Wallpaper Magazine's Architects Directory, an "annual guide to the world's most innovative practices", Andrew Maynard's design practice is quickly becoming recognised as an emerging force on the architectural scene. Established in late 2002, it has been recognised internationally for its unique body of built work and its experimental conceptual design polemics.

Ken Yeang (Malaysia)

Dr Ken Yeang is an architect/planner, and one of the foremost ecodesigners, theoreticians and thinkers in the field of green design. His work on the green agenda started in the 70s is well known for designing innovative signature green buildings and masterplans, and for his pursuit of the ecological aesthetic in his designs.

Madhura Prematilake (Sri Lanka)

Madhura Prematilake practises with his colleagues at Team Architrave in Colombo, Sri Lanka. His office is best known for his design of the Royal Bakery on Galle Road in Colombo, the only Sri Lankan project featured in the Phaidon Atlas of Contemporary World Architecture (2004).

Jo Noero (South Africa)

Noero Wolff have designed buildings throughout Southern Africa as well as the United States. His work has been extensively published both nationally and internationally and has won many awards. The work of the practice is varied both in scale and type and ranges from individual houses to large scale cultural and educational complexes.

Fernando Menis (Spain)

Menis started working independently with his own studio from July 2004. Menis proposes architecture that is needed by the environment. When he thinks of a new building, he considers its plasticity as a unified work which begins from its form. He thinks about the program's functionality defining the work's potential to evolve and grow.

SIA is proud to present the Archifest 08 Forum:

The theme for this year's Archifest Forum "Man+Environment" re-examines the relationship of Architecture with the Environment. This complex relationship encompasses context, genius loci, history, culture, economics, and technology to the growing concern about the role of Architecture in the degradation of our environment that could contribute to global warming, climate change, displacement and alienation.
