SYNOPSIS

Architecture, engineering, and construction (AEC) firms face a variety of challenges, including globally dispersed project teams, fast-track schedules, vast quantities of documentation, multiple systems, and working with various file formats. To succeed in today's fast-paced, highly competitive global economy, AEC firms must have a reliable, efficient way to exchange 2D designs and 3D models, specifications, contracts, and other project information with team members and clients — while helping to protect sensitive information.

Adobe will share ways in which you can leverage technology to improve productivity and time-to-market.

Join us for this seminar where our experts will explain how you can:-

• Organize complex documents and CAD drawings into rich PDF Portfolios
• Create dynamic 3D PDF files from IFC files
• Compare changes between document versions
• Clearly communicate field conditions by embedding video in a PDF file
• Collaborate with remote colleagues in real time
• Reach decisions faster by creating PDF forms and automating common workflows such as RFIs, submittals, change orders, and bid responses
• Create engaging self-running presentations complete with narration, animations, interactivity and quizzes
• Manipulate, paint, composite and animate 3D models with other 3D objects and 2D images for analysis, design and presentation.
• Visualize projects in any size with Intelligent Content-Aware Scaling.
• Smoothly zoom into any magnification and freely rotate the canvas for more efficient image editing.
