SYNOPSIS

Today's building industry puts an enormous amount of focus on ways to develop safer, healthier, more resource efficient and sustainable environments. With these things in mind, the presentation will focus on helping make the right decisions when choosing the most appropriate solution for any of your flooring needs. Product types to be discussed include polyurethane hygienic flooring, epoxy terrazzo with recycled glass, fast curing solutions for renovation projects and "green" car park coatings.

Presentation Topics

- Choosing the best sustainable flooring solution for any environment
- polyurethane hygienic flooring
- epoxy terrazzo with recycled glass
- fast curing solutions for renovation projects
- "green" car park coatings.

Learning Objective / Benefit to Architects

The presentation will cover various types of resinous flooring products mentioned above and provide valuable features and benefits analysis to help attendees make the most appropriate choices when selecting floor finishes.

SPEAKERS PROFILE

David McNeece – International Business Development Manager

Mr. McNeece was recently appointed as International Business Development Manager for Flowcrete International.
