of Architects and Bluescope

SYNOPSIS

Professor Ken Maher, Chairman of HASSELL's International Executive and Australian Institute of Architects Gold Medallist will explore the opportunities and challenges facing designers at this time, and the design possibilities of steel through a number of major public projects undertaken by the practice over recent years, including award winning airports, rail stations, research facilities, workplace and cultural buildings:-

Darwin Convention Centre, Ecosciences Precinct, Epping to Chatswood RailLink, National Institute of Dramatic Art, Olympic Park Station, Parramatta Transport Interchange.

HASSELL is an international design practice with 13 studios in Australia, China, south-east Asia and the UK. With more than 900 people and a track record spanning 70 years, working globally across a diverse range of markets. As an interdisciplinary practice, HASSELL combines expertise in architecture, interior design, landscape architecture and planning with integrated sustainability and urban design capabilities. The 2011 BD World Architecture Top 100 Survey ranked HASSELL as Australasia's number one architectural design practice, and has been recognised through more than 650 design awards.

SPEAKER PROFILE

Professor Ken Maher, B Arch (Hons1), M.Arch, Dip LD, Dip ES LFRAIA, FAPI, FAILA

Ken Maher is a Sydney based architect and landscape architect, and is executive Chairman of HASSELL, Australia's largest international multidisciplinary design practice involved in major urban projects throughout Australia and Asia. He has postgraduate qualifications in landscape architecture and environmental studies, and has a strong interest in multidisciplinary thinking in the design of our cities.

In 2009 Ken was awarded the Australian Institute of Architecture's highest accolade, the AIA Gold Medal and in 2010 he received the Australian Award in Landscape Architecture for his life time contribution to the landscape profession.

Ken's has also received many awards for projects he has led within HASSELL including two Sulman Medals and the Sir Zelman Cowen Award. He speaks frequently at conferences and public forums on design, sustainability and the future of cities throughout Australia and internationally.

Ken is active in practice and academia, a Professor in the Faculty of the Built Environment of the UNSW, chair of the FBE Dean's Advisory Council, chair of the UNSW Campus Advisory Design Panel, and a board member of the UNSW Foundation. He was a founding board member of the Green Building Council. He has been influential in setting environmental and urban design policies for the Australian Institute of Architects as NSW President and has served as a member of the National Executive, as Chair of the NSW Board of Architectural Education, and has initiated high level summits for reviewing city design and urban strategy issues. Ken was inducted as a Fellow of the API in 1998, as a Life Fellow of the Institute of Architects in 2007, as a Fellow of the Green Building Council in 2008, and a Fellow of the Australian Institute of Landscape Architects in 2010.

He has been an advisor to government in design and the built environment, including chairing Premier Bob Carr's Urban Design Advisory Committee introducing innovative measures to improve high density housing design. Ken is currently chair of the City of Sydney's Design Advisory Panel, and is a member of the Federal Government's Built Environment Industry Innovation Council.

Ken has a strong interest in the role of design in contributing to public life and the critical relationship between design and achieving a sustainable future.
