SYNOPSIS

In this seminar, the speaker will use a recent Court of Appeal case to discuss the position of a professional required under an Act to discharge a statutory duty but failed to do so.

The issues covered include: (a) the extent to which an Architect in a similar position would be required to indemnify his client; (b) whether section 60 of the WSHA excludes "a right of action in any civil proceedings in respect of any contravention ...of any provision of this act"; (c) whether an Architect would be liable for the concurrent liability of negligence based on the breach of the statutory duty.

SPEAKER PROFILE

Dr Philip Chan, an Associate Professor, had received training and practised in the area of quantity surveying in the 70s and 80s. He then read law and qualified as an English barrister and a Singapore advocate and solicitor in the 80s. After a short stint as a legal officer at HDB and a legal assistant at Donaldson and Burkinshaw, he taught Business Law briefly at Ngee Ann Polytechnic and joined the Department of Building, NUS, in 1991. Since then he had taught in several modules that cover the laws and practice in the construction industry.

Dr Chan currently teaches Project Management Law at the MSc (Project management) programme which includes construction law and arbitration; Contract and Procurement Management, and Project Dispute Management in the BSc (Project and Facilities management) programme at the Department of Building, School of Design and Environment, National University of Singapore [NUS].

He is the Programme Director of the Joint King's College, London [KCL] - NUS MSc in construction law and dispute resolution and the Co-Director of the Centre for Project Management and Construction Law. Outside the university, Dr Chan is a Deputy President of the Singapore Strata Titles Board and a member of the Council of Estate Agents Board of Appeal. He is also a Co-Editor of the Asian International Arbitration Journal and a member of the Editorial Advisory Board and Correspondent of the International Construction Law Review. He is a practising arbitrator and a Fellow and of the Singapore Institute of Arbitrators (SIArb).

Dr Chan has written eleven books as both sole and joint author. His latest books are (a) Statutory Adjudication in Singapore, Thomson 2008 and (b) Asia Pacific Construction Law Casebook 2008, LexisNexis 2010. He has contributed to journals like the International Construction Law Review and Building and Construction Law journal. He also writes regularly in the newsletter of the SIArb.

Dr Chan has also delivered more than 200 conference/seminar papers and conducted numerous in-house training programmes on matters pertaining to standard form contracts and other areas of construction law and dispute resolution including arbitration.
