

SIA Professional Knowledge Series: Beyond Green Pastures

In an architectural project, the importance of paints today is undisputable. Paint technology has evolved to include protective and special qualities beyond aesthetics to add colour, texture and durability to a variety of surfaces.

Yet faced with a myriad selection of paint products in the market, choosing the right paint to suit the needs of a project is increasingly challenging. Growing awareness of the effects of global warming has also seen the building industry warm up to greener options. Architects with a good understanding of the technology and characteristics of different types of paints will be able to make an informed and socially responsible choice of a paint that matches their needs with minimal impact on the environment.

This back to basics session aims to arm today's architects with an in-depth understanding of the composition, functionality, and technology behind various paint products developed for interior and exterior usage. Certifications as well as the criteria and importance of low Volatile Organic Compounds (VOCs) paint products will be explained. There will be a special focus on Solar Reflective Coatings and how they can be used especially for tropical climates and reducing building energy consumption.

This is the time to keep yourself in tuned with the latest technology in the paint and coating industry and to improve the quality of your masterpiece. Don't miss out!
