

SIA Professional Knowledge Series: Acoustic Seminar Series

The seminar examines the application of acoustic treatment in the modern building today to ensure how acoustic can enhance our comfort and daily life. Acoustic may be a topic that has not been highly emphasized in the design of space but has a high impact on the inhabitants if not treated properly. Problems including loss of information, miscommunication and discomfort can cause unnecessary anxiety and stress over a long period of time. This seminar will take you on a journey of realization on how simple usage of certain materials in the interior space can help to create not just an iconic building in terms of design, but also in terms of indoor comfort. Studying the experience from some of the most significant building in the country with our acoustic expert will surely enhance your knowledge and assist you in achieving the best acoustic outcome for your design.
