

SIA Professional Knowledge Series:

- Specifying Screeding, Levelling and Subfloor Preparation products with confidence
- Choosing the right adhesives & installation method for rubber floor coverings

Selecting and specifying the right screeding & levelling products and flooring adhesives by considering the impact of the type, strength, soundness, flatness and moisture content of the subfloor and the floor covering materials.

The seminar will show best practices and explain how to achieve a perfect specification beneath and how aspirations regarding the look of the final floor covering can be met.

In addition, you will be given an insight into the installation of rubber floor coverings. What are the differences when it comes to sheet and tile installation? What are specific tools that will help you improve your work on the construction site? A technical specialist will show you how to avoid common mistakes and to do the correct cleaning and maintenance of rubber floor coverings.
