WDA FUNDING

With effect from 1 October 2015, WDA has introduced new funding available to subsidise course fees for certifiable courses approved by WDA, which includes the “Design for Safety for Professionals” Course. With the new fundings, SMEs that sponsor Singapore Citizens and Permanent Residents for the DfS for Professional Course (regarded as PME course) could receive course fee subsidy of up to 90%, subject to capping at $50/hour. Self-sponsored Singapore citizens at or above 40 years old could also receive the same level of course subsidy of up to 90%, subject to capping at $50/hour. This is summarised by the chart below:

Summary of WDA Course Fee Subsidies (Effective 1 October 2015)

Eligible Courses	All Singapore Citizens and Permanent Residents	Small and Medium Enterprises (SME) - sponsored Singapore Citizens and Permanent Residents ²	Singapore Citizens aged ≥ 40 years ³	Singapore Citizens aged ≥ 35 years and earning ≤ $1,900/month ⁴
Certifiable Courses approved by WDA	$17/hr  Up to 80%, capped at $17/hour for Rank and File level courses	$25/hr  Up to 90%, capped at $25/hour for Rank and File level courses	$25/hr  Up to 90%, capped at $25/hour for Rank and File level courses	95%
	$15/hr  Up to 50%, capped at $15/hour for PME courses	$50/hr  Up to 90%, capped at $50/hour for PME courses	$50/hr  Up to 90%, capped at $50/hour for PME courses

For example, assuming a course fee of $1000 for 13 hours of training, this would work out to $77/hour. With the cap of $50/hour imposed by WDA, the SME or individual can claim $50/hour x 13 hours which works out to $650 (65% of total course fee). However, if the course fee is $800, the fee rate works out to $800/13 = $62. The cap of $50/hour still applies. In this case, while the member still can claim subsidy of $50/hour x 13 hours = $650, the subsidy works out to $650/$800 x 100% = 81% of the course fee.
