

SIA Inspirational Talk by Minister Lawrence Wong: Designing our Future City – Evolving Role of Architects

Mr Lawrence Wong
Minister for National Development
Second Minister for Finance

Mr Lawrence Wong was elected a Member of Parliament in May 2011 and subsequently held positions in the Ministry of Defence, the Ministry of Education, the Ministry of Communications and Information, and the Ministry of Culture, Community and Youth. As Culture Minister, Mr Wong led the bid for the Singapore Botanic Gardens to be recognised as a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

After the 2015 General Election, Mr Wong was appointed the Minister for National Development and the Second Minister for Finance. He is also the Co-Chairman of the Singapore-Tianjin Economic and Trade Council.

Beginning his career as a civil servant, Mr Wong's portfolio included the Chief Executive of the Energy Market Authority, and the Financial Private Secretary to Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong. Prior to these appointments, he was the Director of Healthcare Finance at the Ministry of Health, where he implemented reforms to MediShield, to provide Singaporeans with better protection against large hospital bills.

Synopsis

Architects have played a pivotal role in shaping the urban landscape of today's Singapore. Over the coming years, we will face new challenges in a rapidly changing world of new innovations and technological disruptions. At the same time, there will be new opportunities as we invest in new infrastructure and transform our city. In our new phase of development, how would the role of architects change and adapt? How can architects help shape our future city?
